

REAL HOPE FOR YOUR HOME
HOMEINHIM.ORG

CONVERSATIONS THAT BUILD IDENTITY

*For use with video series
Real Hope for Your Home:
Practical Applications*

ERIC WALLACE

Key Idea

For a powerful impact include reminders of identity in conversations with your children. Trust is vital in having deeper conversations where identity can be applied. To build trust and openness, ask questions.

Questions that Help Build Relationships

NOTE: Use the following questions as fits the individual and the need of the moment. Some (as worded) are more appropriate for older children or adults. Be creative! Allow the list to jump start your own questions.

1. Where are you reading in your Bible?
 2. What have you learned about God? Yourself?
 3. What part of what Christ has done for you have you thought about recently?
 4. What is something you are asking Jesus to help you with?
 5. How is God working in your life right now?
 6. How can I pray for you?
 7. How can I help you more?
 8. What makes you happy?
 9. What do you hate?
 10. What do you want?
-

11.What are your goals?

12.What do you fear and worry about happening?

13.What do you think about most?

14.What do you think you could not live without?

15.What are your values?

16.Where do you find comfort, escape, pleasure, security?

17.On what or whom do you set your hopes?

18.Whose approval means the most to you? Whose disapproval do you fear the most?

19.Who do you look up to? Who are your heroes?

20.What kind of person do you want to be?

21.How do you define success or failure?

22.What would give you the greatest pleasure? The greatest pain?

23.What do you think about, talk about, pray for?

Your own questions: _____
